Dr. Joyce Kahng, leading dental influencer and owner of Orange and Magnolia Dental Studio, has announced a new partnership with Ultradent Products, Inc. and Opalescence whitening, renowned for its safe and effective teeth whitening products. As an ambassador for Opalescence consumer whitening, Dr. Joyce will highlight Opalescence Go pre filled whitening trays across her social media platforms.

Dr. Joyce Kahng x Opalescence

With over one million followers, Dr. Joyce leverages her expertise as a cosmetic and restorative dentist to create educational content on oral health, debunk dental myths, and provide evidence-based product recommendations. Her commitment to authenticity and high professional standards has led her to carefully select brands that align with her values, making her partnership with Opalescence a natural fit.

Opalescence's focus on proven science, without marketing fluff, aligns perfectly with my approach to patient care.”

Dr. Joyce trusts Opalescence teeth whitening in her practice and Opalescence Go prefilled trays are an at-home option she finds successful for many of her patients. The trays are designed for convenience and mold to teeth for effective results, allowing the user to wear them whenever, wherever they choose. "I've relied on Opalescence whitening solutions for years in-office," Dr. Joyce says. "Opalescence Go is a great option for those patients who want to whiten their teeth at home."

After personally testing the product, Dr. Joyce found that Opalescence Go delivers reliable results without the sharp sensitivity that often accompanies whitening treatments. "This partnership felt inevitable," she adds. "The product works, and I'm excited to share it."

Dr. Joyce also values Opalescence's commitment to science over gimmicks. "Many products claim to whiten teeth but fail to deliver," Dr. Joyce explains. "Opalescence's focus on proven science, without marketing fluff, aligns perfectly with my approach to patient care."

With a diverse online following, Dr. Joyce's content reaches both young consumers and dental professionals. Teeth whitening is one of the most frequently asked about topics, making the Opalescence partnership a highly relevant collaboration for her audience.

Dr. Joyce is already developing engaging content ideas for the partnership, including a seven-day whitening challenge and demonstrations to show how Opalescence works on different shades of yellow. "I love creating fun, educational content," she says. "This partnership allows me to do just that."
