CloudDefense.AI is Excited to Host the October Edition of Cloud Security Thirsty Thursdays

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, October 15, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CloudDefense.AI is thrilled to announce the next installment of its popular Cloud Security Thirsty Thursdays series, happening on Thursday, October 17th, 2024, from 5:30 PM to 7:30 PM PDT at Hacker Dojo in Mountain View, CA. This vibrant monthly event brings together professionals from the cloud security sector, offering a dynamic platform for networking, learning, and staying ahead of the latest developments in cloud security.

This month's lineup features two prominent speakers from the field. First up, Vivek Ramachandran, Founder of SquareX, will deliver an insightful session on “Breaking Secure Web Gateways.” His talk will highlight critical vulnerabilities and attack methods that challenge secure web gateways, offering invaluable strategies for professionals seeking to fortify their web security defenses.

> Cloud security is evolving fast, and it's through shared knowledge and collaboration that we can stay ahead of the curve.”
>
> Abhi Arora, CPO at CloudDefense.AI

Following that, Badari Kalagi, Head of Security at Vagaro, will delve into the ever-evolving relationship between security and compliance in his talk titled “Security <> Compliance: Blockers or Enablers?”. He’ll explore whether compliance frameworks support or hinder security initiatives and provide actionable advice on achieving the right balance between both for enhanced organizational protection.

The evening kicks off at 5:30 PM with a casual networking session, accompanied by refreshments. At 5:50 PM, Anshu Bansal, CEO of CloudDefense.AI, along with key industry figure Suman Sharma, CTO of Procyon, will deliver opening remarks to set the tone for the evening.

Vivek Ramachandran's presentation begins at 6:10 PM, followed by Badari Kalagi's session at 6:50 PM. The event wraps up at 7:20 PM with closing thoughts from the speakers and CloudDefense.AI leadership.

Cloud Security Thirsty Thursdays, a signature event by CloudDefense.AI, continues to provide a platform for ongoing learning and collaboration, fostering deeper connections within the cloud security community.
