Rev. Bill McDonald has had many mystical experiences, including three Near-Death Experiences (NDEs). He is an international motivational speaker, energy healing teacher, award-winning poet, yoga meditation teacher, and Vietnam combat veteran. He has received a Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart, 14 Air Medals, Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, and other awards. He was honored by President Biden in 2022 for his lifetime commitment to service to the veteran community and also recognized with a State of California Assembly Resolution in 2023 for his lifetime achievements to the veteran community.

Rev. McDonald is currently in the middle of a three-year global speaking tour in Asia, Europe, India, and the Middle East. He gives self-healing workshops worldwide for free, never charging for his services and talks.

Every November, in recognition of Veterans/Remembrance Day, Spiritual Awakenings International (SAI) honors veterans, military, and first responders. Many of these people have reported Spiritually Transformative Experiences (STEs), such as Near-Death Experiences (NDEs) or even After-Death Communication with comrades who have fallen on the battlefield. Unfortunately, active-duty military and first responders often hesitate to reveal their experiences for fear such disclosure might be misunderstood and interfere with their reputations or opportunities for promotion. Likewise, many veterans and retired first responders have waited years to share their STE experiences for fear of losing their benefits. Spiritual Awakenings International offers veterans, military, and first responders a positive platform to share their stories.

Flying a Vietnam War helicopter rescue mission in 1967, Bill McDonald saw ghosts of recently dead soldiers hovering over their bodies. It's a vision he can't forget, even 50 years later..."
