Now operating from two locations, Refresh expands its Floridian reach in promoting accessible and achievable beauty for all. The team notes that “everyone deserves to feel beautiful inside and out” without altering the natural beauty of their customers. Extending everything from wellness services to skin rejuvenation, their state-of-the-art solutions, paired with impressively competitive pricing and personalized treatments, make it clear why Refresh holds a loyal client base that consistently returns for more of the medical spa's quality offers.

The Refresh family—as the company staff regards themselves—understands how to support potential customers in their ventures to look and feel their absolute best. Promising to extend high-quality treatments with top-tier customer service and experience, the medicinal spa wants to make its clientele feel accepted from the first phone call to the last trip to the counter for a final check-out after an appointment. The team at Refresh guarantees “quality services [from] quality providers,” supplementally stating, “When you come to Refresh, you are not just a client...you are now a part of the #RefreshFamily.”

At Refresh Port St. Lucie Medical Aesthetics, customers can expect to find a wide variety of the latest treatments created to meet their cosmetic and health-forward needs. In a completely modern facility combined with the same masterful team, the Port St. Lucie spot promises that “every visit is a step towards achieving your best self.” Some of Refresh’s additional offerings include laser hair removal, anti-aging solutions, and body sculpting services.

With over 300 new clients booking appointments every month and more than half a million successfully performing treatments, the Refresh family felt they had no other choice but to open up supplemental locations. As they continue their practices in perfecting treatments, customer experience, and care, the team recognizes that every patient is different. Subsequently, the company’s approach to each client needs to be a tailored encounter that addresses their individualistic requirements.

Moving forward, Refresh hopes to provide the best services to all of its patients, keeping in mind that their experiences should be personalized and unique. As the Refresh family reveals its latest location, they share a few words that outline the values and inspirations of their work: “We care about results, we care about the client experience, [and] we care about you.”
