Paul Ofria, CEO

It is the perfect addition to any Thanksgiving meal, especially after a year filled with political turmoil.

"Having lived through the most intense presidential election year in recent history, we want to bring something to the holidays that 88% of Americans now agree, can literally be on the table." says Suncrafted's CEO, Paul Ofria.

A Pew Research study conducted in January revealed this overwhelming majority, the highest percentage yet of adult U.S. citizens supporting cannabis legalization.

Suncrafted's infused cranberry sauce is available in adult use and medical strength dosages, pursuant to Cannabis Control Commission regulations. In them, medical dispensaries are required to guarantee patient-centered products, as well as for the adult use market. All infused products in Massachusetts dispensaries also comes with certified independent third party test results to ensure dosing accuracy. As one of a handful of dispensaries dedicated to growing the medical market, Suncrafted is known as the best cannabis dispensary in the region for patient access and medically focused products.

The Suncrafted Team Shows How Cranberries and Cannabis Bring People Together

The sauce is made with pureed cranberries, like the company's all natural cranberry gummy, that are harvested from local bogs throughout Plymouth County. The fruit's history is long in the region, having been in the diet of the indigenous Wampanoag tribe and English settlers, and a major component of the region's economy for over a hundred years. Sourcing products from local inputs is a Company goal in part to reduce its impact on the environment.

Dispensaries interested in carrying the sauce for their local customers are asked to contact Suncrafted's wholesale team early by emailing wholesale@hhgma.com, because supplies are limited for the holiday release. Consumers and patients will be able to enjoy Suncrafted infused cranberry sauce as November 2, at the Company's Middleborough dispensary off Exit 8 on Route 495. Follow the Company on instagram @suncraftedma to learn of its official announcements, or check the menu at suncraftedma.com for availability. Suncrafted does not guarantee Thanksgiving conversations will be easy this year, but food will again be the focus with its infused cranberry sauce on the table.

The Company focuses on utilizing energy saving practices like outdoor and greenhouse cultivation, solventless extractions, and reduced and reusable packaging.
