Quality Lodgings: Hotel Group of the Year

Leading the awards in the Netherlands was Quality Lodgings, which took home the coveted title of "Hotel Group of the Year". Known for its collection of boutique hotels, Quality Lodgings is celebrated for offering an unparalleled blend of luxury, personalized service, and unique guest experiences. The group prides itself on curating properties that reflect the local culture and history while delivering world-class hospitality. Each hotel within the Quality Lodgings portfolio is distinctive, providing guests with a blend of modern amenities and authentic charm.

Huis ter Duin: Grand Prestige – Premier Beachfront Luxury Hotel of Northern Europe

Adding to the Netherlands' success, the legendary Grand Hotel Huis ter Duin in Noordwijk was awarded the prestigious title of "Grand Prestige – Premier Beachfront Luxury Hotel of Northern Europe." This iconic beachfront property, known for its luxurious amenities, stunning sea views, and world-class service, has long been a favorite destination for high-profile guests and leisure travelers alike. With its elegant blend of modern luxury and timeless charm, Huis ter Duin continues to set the standard for beachfront hospitality in Europe.

The award highlights the hotel's commitment to providing guests with a serene and indulgent experience by the North Sea. Whether it's the opulent suites, fine dining, or rejuvenating spa treatments, Huis ter Duin has earned its reputation as a top-tier destination for luxury travelers.

voco The Hague: Business Hotel of the Year

In the realm of business travel, voco The Hague stood out as the winner of the "Business Hotel of the Year" award. Strategically located in the heart of The Hague, this stylish hotel is part of IHG Hotels & Resorts and has become a preferred choice for business professionals seeking both convenience and comfort. The hotel's sleek design, cutting-edge meeting facilities, and commitment to sustainability make it an ideal venue for corporate travelers.

voco The Hague combines the charm of a boutique hotel with the practicality of a business hub, offering everything from state-of-the-art conference rooms to quiet workspaces and relaxing accommodations. The hotel's vibrant yet professional atmosphere was a key factor in its recognition by the European Hotel Awards 2024 jury.

Belgium also had its moment in the spotlight with The Dominican Hotel in Brussels being named "Historical Boutique Hotel of the Year." Situated in the heart of Brussels, this luxurious boutique hotel is housed in a former 15th-century abbey and offers guests a seamless fusion of historical architecture and contemporary design. The Dominican has become an iconic fixture in the Belgian capital, offering guests an immersive experience that combines cultural heritage with modern luxury.

The award recognizes The Dominican's dedication to preserving its historical roots while providing guests with all the conveniences of a modern boutique hotel. Its unique atmosphere, characterized by grand spaces and intimate corners, ensures every guest feels the blend of history and elegance throughout their stay.

A Night of Celebration and Innovation

The European Hotel Awards 2024 gala ceremony was a glamorous evening attended by the industry's leading figures, influencers, and media representatives. Guests were treated to an evening of fine dining, entertainment, and networking, as the awards highlighted the best in European hospitality across various categories, from design and innovation to service excellence.

The event emphasized the importance of creativity and forward-thinking in today's ever-evolving hospitality landscape. Hotels that showcased sustainable practices, exceptional guest experiences, and innovative approaches to luxury were especially lauded this year.

The Netherlands and Belgium: Leading the Way in European Hospitality

The success of hotels from the Netherlands and Belgium at this year's European Hotel Awards is a reflection of the region's continued leadership in the hospitality sector. With world-class establishments like Quality Lodgings, Huis ter Duin, voco The Hague, and The Dominican, these countries are setting the standard for excellence across Europe.

From the coastal luxury of Huis ter Duin to the historical elegance of The Dominican in Brussels, these hotels exemplify the diversity and quality that define the European hospitality landscape. Their recognition at the European Hotel Awards 2024 underscores their commitment to delivering unforgettable experiences to guests from around the world.
