What Is Accelerating Growth in the Veterinary Services Market?

Global meat production is on the rise, further supporting the growth of the market. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, beef production in the USA reached 27.5 billion pounds in 2020, marking a record high. Developing nations, including China, India, and Brazil, are also experiencing a surge in meat production due to increasing populations and income levels. By 2027, meat and poultry production in emerging markets is expected to grow by 76%, and by 2050, China's meat imports are projected to skyrocket by over 3,500% to $150 billion. This rapid growth in meat consumption is expected to drive demand for veterinary services and feed additives to ensure animal health and food safety.
