The SoGlos Business Awards celebrate the very best businesses and entrepreneurs in Gloucestershire, recognizing innovation, growth, and contribution to the local economy. This year's ceremony brought together the county's most influential business leaders, and Nova Blue Technologies stood out for its exceptional achievements in the cybersecurity sector.

“Winning the Gloucestershire Cyber Business of the Year award is an honour in itself, but to also be named Business of the Year is beyond our expectations.”
Steven Mason

"We are absolutely thrilled to receive these awards," said Steve Mason, Founder and CEO of Nova Blue Technologies. "This recognition is a testament to the hard work, dedication, and innovative spirit of our entire team. In a time when cybersecurity is more critical than ever, we're proud to be at the forefront of protecting businesses and individuals alike."

Over the past year, Nova Blue Technologies has made significant strides in advancing cybersecurity solutions, launching new services, and expanding its client base both locally and nationally. The company's commitment to excellence and innovation has not only bolstered its growth but also contributed to enhancing the overall security posture of businesses across Gloucestershire and beyond.

The judges at the SoGlos Business Awards praised Nova Blue Technologies for its exceptional service delivery, industry leadership, and positive impact on the local economy.

"Winning the Gloucestershire Cyber Business of the Year award is an honour in itself, but to also be named Business of the Year is beyond our expectations," added Steve Mason. "We extend our heartfelt thanks to SoGlos, the judges, our dedicated team, and our loyal clients who have supported us on this incredible journey."
