

Broadsword Launches Solution to Ease Government Certification Requirements

OneCert removes the administrative burden of maintaining multiple certifications for your company and team members

DETROIT, MI, UNITED STATES, October 24, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Broadsword Solutions Corporation (Broadsword) today announced the release of OneCert, a solution to ease the process of complying with Federal, and state certification and audit requirements for small and medium-sized businesses.

It's becoming increasingly difficult for suppliers to keep up with government compliance requirements."

Darian Poinsetta

OneCert reduces the burden of tracking, planning, and managing organizational and individual certifications.

It helps small-to-medium sized companies focus on product development and service delivery without getting bogged down in managing, tracking and preparing for audits, appraisals, and annual evaluations.

"It's becoming increasingly difficult for suppliers to keep up with government compliance requirements," said Broadsword's President Darian Poinsetta. "Not only do they have to do more than ever before with less, but they have to comply with an increasing number of recurring certifications and ratings."

OneCert eases the burden of maintaining certifications by off-loading key certification management tasks, ensuring alignment with organizational goals and processes, providing fractional quality and process management, tracking deadlines, communicating important milestones, and ensuring that certification tasks occur on time and within budget. OneCert frees up managers to focus more on products and services, and less on passing audits.

Poinsetta said that OneCert currently supports organizations that are adopting CMMI, ISO 9001, ISO 20000, ISO 27001, SOX, GDPR, Microsoft, Oracle, Amazon AWS, and NIST 800-171.
