Startupbootcamp – Sustainable Fintech Accelerator

"PayToMe.co is honored to join the Startupbootcamp Cohort and having secured seed investment," said Mike Ulker, CEO and Founder of PayToMe.co. "With the support of Startupbootcamp, the world's top accelerator, PayToMe.co has significantly accelerated our growth."

Since 2010, Startupbootcamp has operated over 150 accelerators in more than 20 countries, helping over 1,600 startups reach their full potential. The program is designed to compress two years of growth into just three months, providing startups like PayToMe.co with access to 5,000+ global network of mentors, corporate partners, and investors. On average, startups in the program experience a 2.5x increase in valuation and raise approximately €1.5 million within six to twelve months of completing the accelerator.

PayToMe.co addresses the inefficiencies of fragmented financial systems by offering SMBs a seamless, AI-driven platform to manage global payments, customizable invoicing, and cross-border transactions. Serving over 100 countries and integrated with 12,000 financial institutions and 7,000 applications, PayToMe.co is at the forefront of financial inclusion, ensuring that even underserved businesses can access critical tools to drive growth and innovation.

Strategic Partnerships Powering Growth

PayToMe.co's success is bolstered by its platform and technology partners, including Plaid, Stripe, and US Bank, which help drive its robust, scalable fintech marketplace. In addition to these technology partners, PayToMe is supported by strategic partners and shareholders such as AppTech Payments Corp. (Nasdaq: APCX), Startupbootcamp and ACH Australia Investments Pty Ltd. These strategic partners and shareholders not only provide critical resources, like patent licensing and accelerator support, but also play a pivotal role in connecting PayToMe with key corporate partners, investors, and mentors as the company prepares for Series A funding. Through these partnerships, PayToMe is positioned to secure the corporate and institutional backing needed to scale its platform and drive its mission forward.
