

Health Tech Academy Launches Affordable Medical Assistant Bootcamp

Online healthcare educator, Health Tech Academy releases affordable Medical Assistant program for students seeking employment in allied health care.

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, October 23, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Health Tech Academy is excited to announce the launch of an affordable medical assistant bootcamp, engineered to prepare aspiring medical assistants for bright futures in allied health. The 16-week program prepares students seeking their first career, or their next career, in healthcare with the skills they'll need for meaningful employment.

Health Tech Academy Launches Affordable Medical Assistant Bootcamp

More affordable than virtually every other available medical assistant program, the Health Tech Academy Online Medical Assistant Bootcamp is available for only $1,250. The total cost covers instruction and educational materials, including HTA's Medical Assistant E-Book. It also grants students regular check-ins with Student Services and six-month post-program access to career coaching.

“

Instead of spending six figures on a four-year college degree, students can learn everything they'll need to pass the CCMA certification exam and become a medical assistant in 16 weeks, for $1,250.”

Danish Khan

Students can also choose to pay $49 per week, for six months, to pay off their tuition without any interest.

Students will learn in-demand skills in vital sign measurement, laboratory tests, and electronic medical record systems (EMRs), through a combination of hands-on labs and self-paced education. The curriculum introduces learners to fundamental concepts in anatomy and physiology, medical terminology, and clinical procedures. The program is also structured to help students pass the Certified Clinical medical Assistant certification from the National Healthcare Association.

“We’re excited to launch an affordable medical assistant bootcamp designed to empower aspiring medical assistants with the practical skills and knowledge needed to thrive in the healthcare field.” said Shamsah Noorani, CEO of Health Tech Academy. “We want to make healthcare careers accessible to any student, from any background, regardless of their financial capacity – and this program is a huge step toward that goal.”

All students are eligible for HTA’s medical assistant bootcamp as long as they have obtained a high school diploma or completed their GED.

“This new medical assistant bootcamp empowers students to take control of their own education – and their own careers” said Health Tech Academy’s Product Manager Danish Khan. “Instead of spending six figures on a four-year college degree, students can learn everything they’ll need to pass the CCMA certification exam and become a medical assistant in 16 weeks, for just $1,250.”

If you would like more information about Health Tech Academy and our new medical assistant bootcamp, please visit the program page or call (855) 590-6601 to learn more.

Shamsah Noorani
Health Tech Academy
+234 809 484 0735
shamsah.noorani@healthtechacademy.org

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

X

LinkedIn

Instagram

YouTube

TikTok

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/754156364>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.