We understand the frustration publishers face when they have valuable print titles but no digital files. Our physical book to eBook service eliminates that barrier.”

Qutub Bharmal

Publishers simply send in their physical copies, and Alpha eBook handles everything. The process begins with:

- Disbanding the physical books and scanning each page with precision.
- Using advanced Optical Character Recognition (OCR) technology, the scanned pages are transformed into editable and searchable digital text.
- The text is then proofread and spell-checked to ensure accuracy with the original print edition.

• Finally, the content is formatted into popular eBook formats like EPUB, AZW3 (KF8), or PDF, ready for distribution across major platforms.

"We understand the frustration publishers face when they have valuable print titles but no digital files," said Qutub Bharmal, Founder of Alpha eBook. "Our physical book to eBook service eliminates that barrier. We handle the entire conversion process, from scanning to formatting, so publishers can bring their older titles back to life in the digital world."

To ensure quality, Alpha eBook performs a final quality check to make sure the eBook is properly formatted and functions seamlessly across devices. "We pride ourselves on making this process as smooth and hassle-free as possible," Bharmal added. "Our goal is to help publishers unlock new revenue opportunities by reviving print-only books for a modern audience."

To make this a win-win situation for publishers, Alpha eBook offers a free conversion trial, allowing publishers to experience the quality of their conversion firsthand and gain confidence in the results they will receive.
