

Empowering the Next Generation: Launch of the Poverty Eradication Education Program

Innovative initiative equips students with tools to combat poverty through entrepreneurship and community engagement.

SPOKANE, WA, UNITED STATES,
November 13, 2024 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- As part of its VISION2030 and mission to tackle root causes of global challenges, the World Subnationals Education Agency (WSEA) is excited to introduce the Poverty Eradication Education Program (PEEP), a transformative initiative aimed at empowering students with the skills and knowledge needed to tackle poverty through entrepreneurship, trade, and community involvement. One of the program's key features is its focus on purpose and hope, which is designed to support mental well-being, foster optimism, and inspire students at all levels to lead purposeful, forward-thinking lives.

The right kind of education is key to poverty eradication. This Educational Program is to raise wealth creators who will become economic assets and job creators in their communities and nations.”

Dominion V.Judah Ph.D.

Dr. Dominion V. Judah, President General of the World Subnationals and Nations (WSANDN), highlighted the importance of education in this critical effort, stating, "The right kind of education is key to poverty eradication. This Educational Program is to raise wealth creators who will become economic assets and job creators in their communities and nations." This vision underpins the development and implementation of PEEP, which aims to inspire youth to be active participants in their communities, creating lasting change.

Program Overview

PEEP encompasses distinct modules tailored to primary, secondary, and tertiary education levels, ensuring that students of all ages can engage in poverty eradication efforts.

Poverty Eradication Education Program

Empowering Futures: Education for All

PEEP by World Subnationals Education Agency

Primary Education Program (Ages 6-12): This 10-week course is designed to inspire young pupils by fostering a mindset conducive to wealth creation and community engagement. Through interactive storytelling, hands-on activities, and discussions, students will learn foundational concepts of wealth and poverty, building a sense of empathy and responsibility.

Secondary Education Program (Ages 13-18): Spanning 12 weeks, this module empowers high school students to understand local and international trade, industrialization, and entrepreneurship. Utilizing case studies from local businesses, students will learn practical skills that they can apply in real-world contexts, driving economic growth in their communities.

Tertiary Education Program (Ages 18+): Also a 12-week initiative, this program equips university and college students with theoretical and practical knowledge related to poverty eradication through entrepreneurship and community engagement. By incorporating lessons on business development, financial literacy, and advocacy, students will be prepared to tackle economic challenges head-on.

Program Objectives

The overarching objectives of PEEP are designed to ensure that every participant gains valuable insights and practical skills:

Inspiration and Empowerment: Cultivate a growth mindset that encourages creativity, resilience, and a proactive approach to challenges.

Skill Development: Equip students with essential skills in entrepreneurship, financial literacy, and community engagement.

Community and Global Engagement: Foster an understanding of local and global economic issues, emphasizing the role individuals can play in addressing these challenges.

Inclusivity: Ensure all programs are non-discriminatory and accessible to all students, regardless of their background or circumstances.
