Galvin Green designers engineered the AMES jacket with ultra-modern technology to ensure it delivers total freedom of movement and minimal noise during the golf swing, as well as unrivalled breathability and protection from the elements. The three-layer PERTEX® fabric delivers total protection from the rain and wind, while a smooth 'slide and glide' interior provides added comfort and functionality when putting the jacket on and off.

The garment comes complete with front pockets to keep hands dry; chest width tabs for extra comfort; plus adjustable cuffs and shaped sleeves for the perfect fit and easy movement. It is available in six striking color combinations and sizes up to 3XL.
