Just when you think it couldn't get crazier, a show-stopping zombie dance number, "Step, Step, Step" —now a viral dance sensation—steals the spotlight! With sharp wit, a killer soundtrack, and nonstop laughs, Fingers is the new must-see Zombie movie for families worldwide!

Premiering at IMAX Theatre in Sacramento on 'International Zombie Day', October 13th, "Fingers - The World's First Vegan Zombie" has officially been released for all to enjoy via Belton Mouras Jr.'s YouTube channel.

Although "Fingers" is centered around zombies, the goal was always to have fun with the concept. However, it did draw from some real-life inspiration. "We wanted to keep things light and playful," Mouras explained. "When I first wrote it, I was a vegetarian and started wondering what a vegetarian zombie might look like. That idea sparked the story, and it turned into something hilarious!"

Belton Mouras, Jr. was born in Northern California, where creativity was woven into the fabric of his daily life. Raised in a musically gifted family passionate about animals and steeped in the rich storytelling traditions of Cajun culture, Belton cultivated a distinctive blend of artistic influences. He began his musical journey at the age of five with classical piano and later embraced jazz in his late twenties, unlocking a new dimension of creative expression.

Beyond music, Belton's artistic talents extended into the visual arts, producing over a hundred acrylic paintings, many inspired by his deep love for animals and music. His work has been showcased in art exhibitions, charity auctions, and private collections, reflecting his versatile and expressive spirit.
