A Seamless End-to-End Closing Solution

Areal Closer Copilot brings powerful AI-driven capabilities to automate the traditionally manual and time-consuming process of loan condition verification. This tool examines closed loan packages, validating data integrity, required signatures, and necessary stamps to ensure compliance and accuracy. Together with the previously released Automated CD Balancer, which handles fee balancing and CD preparation, the Closer Copilot completes Areal.ai's end-to-end closing solution, allowing lenders to confidently expedite loan processing from closing disclosures to loan closure.

“With Areal Closer Copilot, we're building on the foundation we set with Automated CD Balancer, empowering lenders with a complete, automated solution for all closing needs,” said Argun Kilic, CEO at Areal.ai. This addition makes Areal.ai a key closing platform to provide lenders with an end-to-end AI solution for loan condition verification, fee balancing, and data integrity, dramatically improving speed, accuracy, and efficiency.”

Expanding on Success: Automated CD Balancer

Since its release last year, the Automated CD Balancer has been successfully adopted by lenders and title companies for its ability to automate complex fee balancing tasks with unparalleled accuracy. By reducing time and resource demands, the Automated CD Balancer has become essential for lenders seeking to simplify CD preparation while ensuring regulatory compliance and accuracy. With the new Closer Copilot, lenders now gain access to a comprehensive AI solution that addresses every aspect of the closing process — from initial CD to loan review adjustments.
