The agreement between the two firms solidifies a partnership, where K Altman Law will provide advocacy expertise in Special Education matters. At the same time, New Horizons Education Group will offer its vast knowledge in educational planning and behavior assessments.

“We are excited to join forces with New Horizons Education

Group to further our shared mission of empowering families in the Special Education space,” said Keith Altman, Founder and Managing Partner of K Altman Law. “This partnership strengthens our ability to serve our clients by combining advocacy with the educational insights provided by New Horizon.”

Michelle Guffee, Principal Owner of New Horizons Education Group, expressed her enthusiasm for the partnership: “We believe that every child deserves access to the support and services necessary for a successful education. Partnering with K Altman Law allows us to expand our reach and offer families a more comprehensive approach, combining our educational expertise with their advocacy to achieve the best outcomes.”

This collaboration underscores both organizations' commitment to ensuring students with special needs receive appropriate educational support through legal and educational resources. By working together, K Altman Law and New Horizons Education Group are poised to create new opportunities for families seeking assistance with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), Section 504 plans, and other crucial services that ensure a student's success.
