“

Since opening our doors, we've been committed to meeting the evolving tech needs of our neighborhood.”

Paul Ongioni

"Since opening our doors, we've been committed to meeting the evolving tech needs of our neighborhood," said Paul Ongioni, owner of NerdsToGo Chicago Downtown Magnificent Mile. "By extending our hours and introducing weekend support, we're making it even more convenient for our customers to receive the technology assistance they need, exactly when they need it."

The decision to expand hours comes in response to growing demand for flexible and readily available tech support services in the Streeterville and surrounding neighborhoods. Residents and businesses alike can now benefit from NerdsToGo's comprehensive range of services, including network solutions, cybersecurity, managed IT services, and computer repairs, with the added convenience of evening and weekend availability.

"Our community is vibrant and always on the move, and we understand that tech issues don't adhere to a 9-to-5 schedule," added Ongioni. "Whether it's a small business needing urgent IT support after hours or a resident facing a weekend computer glitch, we're here to provide reliable solutions without delay."
