

The Glass Guru Joins FranDevCo as the Newest Member of Its Franchise Family

The franchise development company welcomes the friendly neighborhood glass experts to their portfolio, helping to drive new franchise sales and business growth

CHARLOTTE, NC, UNITED STATES, October 30, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FranDevCo, a nationally recognized franchise development company specializing in emerging and growth-oriented brands, is happy to announce its recent partnership with The Glass Guru, a full-service glass repair and replacement company. This collaboration marks continued growth for The Glass Guru as they expanded their offerings, becoming a North America-wide network of full-service neighborhood glass shops offering solutions to customers' glass, window, and door needs.

Founded in 2004 by Dan and Joy Frey, The Glass Guru was inspired by the goal of introducing a better solution for foggy dual-pane windows that didn't require a complete glass or window replacement. After extensive research into a new environmentally friendly and economically sound restoration technique, The Glass Guru became the first U.S. company to offer its unique Foggy Window Repair service to the public. Since then, they have been progressively growing across the United States.

"Since 2004, we have brought our Proprietary Foggy Window Repair service to over 88 markets in North America, becoming the local glass, window, door, and shower enclosure experts that residential and commercial customers have come to rely on," said Dan Frey, Founder of The Glass Guru. "Our partnership with FranDevCo will allow us to continue to grow and thrive in an expanding home services market."

The Glass Guru offers a wide range of services, from restoration and repair to complete window replacements. Signature services like Foggy Window Repair, In-Glass Pet Doors, and Custom Mirror Frames distinguish them from the competition. The home services industry is a $500 billion market, with window and door demand expected to rise 5% year over year. Every real estate owner is a current or future customer, as glass is a high-priority repair, making The Glass Guru's services consistently in demand.

FranDevCo's expertise in franchise development and market penetration is positioned to provide The Glass Guru with the support and resources needed to expand its business to the next level. "We're very excited to welcome The Glass Guru to our family of franchise partners and begin accelerating their growth through quality lead generation and diligent market penetration strategies," said Sung Ohm, CEO of FranDevCo. "Their unique business model and dedication to customer satisfaction perfectly align with our organization's values, and we look forward to helping them share their incredible service with more customers throughout the North American market."

Due to its proven marketing system, sourcing of local and national suppliers, and its protected franchise territory, The Glass Guru offers an appealing opportunity for potential franchisees. Through award-winning coaching and support from business and glass industry experts, franchisees are given the necessary tools and guidance to run a successful business. This support begins on day one with franchise coaching, extending to regular conference call training and a full library of 24/7 available video resources and training guides.

Glass is one of the most abundant and prominent elements in a home and business, so it's important to find a trusted glass repair and replacement company. Bad jobs can stick out and can even be dangerous, not to mention costly. The Glass Guru's team of experts takes pride in their work and is committed to providing customers comfort and satisfaction in their homes and business properties. With The Glass Guru's skills and integrity, it's clear the Glass Guru customers' glass projects are in excellent hands.
