

Grown Climate Smart and Township 23 Distillery: A New Partnership for Sustainable Grain in Spirits

The DeLong Co., Inc.'s Grown Climate Smart brand partners with Nelson, Wisconsin-based Township 23 Distillery.

NELSON, WI, UNITED STATES, November 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Grown Climate Smart, a fully owned subsidiary of The DeLong Co., Inc. and a USDA Partnerships for Climate-Smart Commodities Awardee, announces its partnership with Township 23 Distillery, a field to glass distillery utilizing organic crops located in Nelson, Wisconsin. This collaboration aims to build and develop markets for climate-smart commodities while increasing consumer awareness of products that utilize sustainable and regenerative grain.

Through this partnership, Grown Climate Smart and Township 23 Distillery will work together to champion climate-smart agriculture and its practices that lead to grains being used for distilling Township 23 Distillery spirits. "Township 23 Distillery is a strong partner for us due to their commitment to utilizing localized grain stemming from climate-smart practices, as well as being a fellow Wisconsin-based company," said Dylan Vaca, Brand and Marketing Manager of Grown Climate Smart. "This partnership exemplifies our shared mission to promote sustainability within the spirits industry."

Zach Hetrick, Owner, President, and Master Distiller of Township 23 Distillery, expressed his enthusiasm for the collaboration, stating, "We are excited to showcase our commitment to climate-smart agriculture, as it aligns closely with our identity as a farm distillery. By partnering with Grown Climate Smart, we can further our mission of producing quality spirits while supporting sustainable practices."
