Food insecurity remains a persistent issue in America, with nearly 14 million children facing hunger in 2023, representing 1 in 5 children nationwide. This crisis affects children's ability to focus, grow, and succeed, creating a lasting impact on their development.

"Many people are unaware that their neighbors might be struggling with hunger," says Dr. Frank L. Stile, founder of the Frank L. Stile Foundation. "It is critical, now more than ever, that we come together as a community to help those in need."

As food prices continue to rise and federal assistance programs are stretched, organizations like the Frank L. Stile Foundation play a vital role in filling the gap. By working closely with Feeding America, FLSF ensures that families in the Las Vegas community receive the food support they need.
