

Etherio Selected as Association Management Partner for NOMMA

Etherio is proud to announce its partnership with the National Ornamental & Miscellaneous Metals Association (NOMMA).

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES,
November 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/

-- This collaboration brings together NOMMA's longstanding dedication to the ornamental metals industry and Etherio's expertise in providing comprehensive association management solutions. Etherio will manage the day-to-day operations and strategic initiatives of NOMMA, ensuring that the association continues to thrive and serve its members effectively.

We are thrilled to embark on this new partnership with Etherio. Their expertise in association management will help take NOMMA to new heights as we continue to support the ornamental metals industry."

Peter Zadrozinski, President of NOMMA's Board of Directors

NOMMA, founded in 1958, represents thousands of professionals engaged in the design and production of custom metalwork. The association plays a pivotal role in advancing the ornamental metals industry by offering educational resources, networking opportunities, and advocacy for the craftsmen, fabricators, and suppliers that make up its membership.

"We are thrilled to embark on this new partnership with Etherio. Their team's expertise in association management will help take NOMMA to new heights as we continue to support the ornamental metals industry," said Peter Zadrozinski, President of NOMMA's Board of Directors.

Etherio's dedicated team will support NOMMA with governance, member services, strategic planning, and event management to enhance the association's impact and operational efficiency.

Leading the team is Jen Sanford, Vice President of Etherio's Association Management division and Account Executive for NOMMA, who will oversee the overall strategic direction of the partnership. Lisa Williams will serve as the Executive Director, focusing on strategy, governance, board management, financial oversight, and foundation management. The team also includes an Association Manager, responsible for education, marketing and communications, as well as a Senior Association Coordinator who will focus on customer service, membership, and registration.

Jen Sanford, VP of Association Management, added, "NOMMA is a cornerstone of the ornamental metals community, and our team is fully committed to supporting its growth and success. We are excited to provide NOMMA with the operational efficiency and strategic guidance needed to ensure long-term sustainability and member engagement."
