

AlmaLinux OS Foundation Chair To Speak at SFSCON 2024

FORT MYERS, FL, UNITED STATES,
October 31, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ --

The AlmaLinux OS Foundation, the nonprofit that stewards the free and community-governed open source enterprise Linux distribution, today announced that chair benny Vasquez will provide an update on the latest AlmaLinux developments during The South Tyrol Free Software Conference (SFSCON), taking place November 8-9 at the NOI Techpark in Bolzano, Italy.

At 10:30 a.m. on Friday, November 8, Vasquez will present, "AlmaLinux in Brief," where she's slated to summarize 20 years of context and 4 years of growth in just minutes by highlighting the major points that brought AlmaLinux to the world, how the project has adjusted for each challenge along the way, and what they're planning next session as an opportunity to share what's new. "AlmaLinux exemplifies the best of Free Software collaboration, providing a reliable and secure enterprise-grade Linux distribution," said Patrick Ohnewein, Head of Tech Transfer Digital at NOI Techpark. "Their commitment to the community and innovation is inspiring. We're honored to have benny Vasquez share her insights at SFSCON, where attendees can learn about the latest trends in digital infrastructures and discover how Software Freedom can drive business success."

With experience managing commercial and open source communities, developers, and high-performance teams at places like LiquidWeb, cPanel, Progress, and most recently Microsoft, Vazques showcases a successful track record across product management, and business strategy – serving as a leading voice in the world of community-driven software.
