

Retired Navy SEAL, former CIA operative & Deputy US Marshal Rodney Magallan revealed how to excel in one's profession

---

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, November 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rodney Magallan paints a vivid and meaningful analogy using a deadly weapon in "Tip of the Spear" (Ballast Books; releasing November 12th, 2024). According to Rodney, the 'tip of the spear' comprises elite individuals or elite members of a group. A select few become the best of the best, but as described in this motivational slash leadership guide, anyone can become elite.

Throughout this riveting and inspirational account, readers will learn what it takes to reach elite status. It will implore them to examine their own lives and recognize their value, regardless of position or profession. Encompassing Magallan's core philosophies that have gotten him to where he is today, readers will come to understand that 'the tip of the spear' isn't just about status—it's about what must be done to make significant improvements in one's own life.

Over the past thirty-five years, Magallan has served as a Navy SEAL, with the US Marshals Service, with the CIA, and as an executive protection manager in the corporate and private sectors. Positions that require determination, fast-thinking, and consistency in order to prevail are what have revealed to Magallan exactly what it takes to be the best. If his resume didn't already speak for itself, Magallan's extensive award history will.

CDR Magallan awards:

The Exceptional Performance Award by the CIA

The Defense Meritorious Service Medal

The Meritorious Service Medal (one gold star)

The Joint Service Commendation Medal

The Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medal (four gold stars)

The Joint Service Achievement Medal

The Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal (one gold star)

The Armed Forces Service Medal

Three flag letters of commendation and various other unit and personal awards.
