"Whether it's cave-aged or cottage cheese, it is hard for me to grasp the significance of the behind-the-scenes work it takes to produce our extensive portfolio of products. Our dairy farmers and cheese makers always prioritize quality, and I was incredibly proud to accept the NMPF awards on their behalf," said Matt McClelland, CEO/EVP of Prairie Farms Dairy. "Recognition from the NMPF Dairy Product Judging Contest always opens up new opportunities for us, and I hear over and over again, 'Prairie Farms is the company we want to do business with.' I'm grateful to our existing and potential B2B partners for understanding the value of supporting a farmer-owned company."
