Serviceability 2.0: Key Features and Benefits

The new Serviceability 2.0 interface provides a fresh, dynamic user experience with comprehensive service information at users' fingertips. With advanced data filtering, users can refine searches and find exactly what they need:

- New UI Design: A sleek, upgraded interface that enhances navigation, allowing users to quickly find and select services.
- Wireless Category: With CableFinder's commitment to broaden its offerings, wireless service options are now available.
- New Provider Launch: Lumen joins CableFinder as a key serviceability provider, offering real-time service information directly on the platform.

How It Works

The Serviceability 2.0 platform will be automatically activated upon launch for all CableFinder users, with an easy toggle option to revert to the previous version if desired. Users will find detailed information, including carrier names, color-coded serviceability indicators (green, yellow, orange, red), maximum speeds, service types, and availability by location.

CableFinder's five-year anniversary marks a major milestone, bringing the company closer to its goal of offering an inclusive, user-focused connectivity platform. The new consumer website and Serviceability 2.0 platform are just the beginning of CableFinder's "5 Years Forward," with much more planned to enhance user experience and accessibility.
