Bone and Paw Pools are made from High Molecular Weight Polyethylene (HMWPE), a durable and recyclable material that withstands the rigors of outdoor use while ensuring a safe cooling and play experience for dogs of all sizes. Unlike cheaper kiddie pools, which often have a short lifespan and may last for just one use, Bone and Paw Pools are built to last, reducing waste and promoting a more sustainable lifestyle.

“Our mission at One Dog One Bone is to elevate the status and spirit of dogs worldwide,” said Raymond Palmer, founder of One Dog One Bone. “At One Dog One Bone, we prioritize sustainability. Our Bone and Paw Pools are built to last, reducing waste while providing dogs with a safe, enjoyable cooling solution.”

Our Bone Pools are not only popular among pet owners but are also heavily utilized in various commercial settings, including dog daycare facilities, pet resorts, animal shelters, police canine units, and veterinary clinics. They have even found applications in zoos and animal sanctuaries, providing a much-needed cooling solution for animals during hot weather. Additionally, military installations use Bone Pools for both military personnel and military working dogs, helping to treat heat exhaustion and heat stroke effectively. These pools have seen daily use, with hundreds of dogs jumping in and out on any given day. Some Bone Pools have been in service for nearly 20 years, demonstrating exceptional durability and the ability to withstand the energetic play of dogs.

With their unique design and eco-friendly materials, Bone and Paw Pools are not just functional but also aesthetically pleasing. Currently available in one size, these pools fit seamlessly into any backyard or outdoor space, encouraging pet owners to provide a fun, safe, and engaging environment for their pets.

One Dog One Bone is dedicated to setting a new standard in the pet product world, emphasizing the importance of sustainability and quality. With Bone and Paw Pools, pet owners can enjoy peace of mind knowing they are investing in a product that prioritizes both their dog's well-being and the health of the planet.

Next year marks the 20th anniversary of the Bone Pool, a testament to its quality and popularity in the world. For more information about Bone and Paw Pools, including details on where to purchase, please contact us directly.
