The North Pole Adventureland experience is the brainchild of father-daughter team, Mark Philip and Amy Philip. Amy, who also owns several interactive entertainment businesses in the area, wanted to create something truly special for families to enjoy during the holiday season. With her experience in the entertainment industry and Mark's 40 years in the building homes, they are excited to bring some Christmas magic to their hometown of Portland, OR.

"We are thrilled to announce the launch of our North Pole Adventureland experience this year," said Mark Philip, co-owner of the Holiday Adventure Company. "As a family-owned business, we understand the importance of creating memories with loved ones during the holiday season. We wanted to bring something unique and magical to our community and we are excited to share this experience with families of all ages and sizes-you don't have to have kids to come, just be young at heart with a love for all things Christmas."

The North Pole Adventureland experience will feature a variety of activities and attractions, including a visit to the Elves workshop and build your own toy, a chance to sit in Santa's sleigh, make some yummy reindeer food to sprinkle on Christmas Eve, and meet Santa himself.

Families can also enjoy festive treats, holiday music, and other surprises throughout the experience. The Adventureland will be open from November 22nd to December 24th, making it the perfect holiday outing for families.
