

DocGenie Telemedicine Platform Gets HIPAA and ISO 27001 Certified

GURUGRAM, HARYANA, INDIA, November 8, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DocGenie, a leading online doctor consultation platform, is excited to announce that its state of the art platform has received HIPAA and ISO 27001 certification. This makes it one of the very few online consultation platforms which have received both these certifications. The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996 was by US Congress is now accepted as a global standard for protecting sensitive personal and health data of patients. It also stipulates practices to modernise the flow of healthcare information. ISO certification similarly demonstrates that DocGenie follows international best practices for information security management. This gives customers, doctors and patients confidence that their data is safeguarded.
