As General Counsel, Jeske will oversee legal and compliance aspects globally, demonstrating our continued commitment to integrity and our values when balancing company priorities and mitigating risk. Along with leading legal strategy on the Executive Team, he will collaborate with Sales and Customer Support teams to provide internal and customer counsel, and partner with Product

Innovation to ensure platform enhancements aligned with customer expansion.

"I am thrilled to join the LogicGate team and augment the legal strategy to ensure we reach our goals, maintain customer trust, and uphold the core values that make up the company's DNA," said Chris Jeske. "Recognized as one of four global leading GRC platforms, I look forward to not only helping to maintain that leadership position, but also having a seat at the table as we continue to innovate and set the bar for GRC support and expertise."

In his recent role as General Counsel for an industry-leading healthtech company, Jeske delivered pragmatic legal guidance to advance business initiatives, integrating legal strategies with company objectives. Notably and with direct relevance to the GRC industry, he guided the implementation of several security and compliance standards, including the HITRUST Common Security Framework, enhancing the company's security posture and reinforcing customer trust.

Based in Chicago, Jeske will work directly with leadership and customers from the company's Chicago headquarters as well as virtually, benefitting from LogicGate's outcomes-first approach to flexible remote work. He holds a bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and earned his Juris Doctor from Northwestern Pritzker School of Law.

Jeske's appointment comes at a pivotal time for LogicGate. The organization is on a winning trajectory, poised to supersede growth goals and set pace for an even more aggressive 2025.
