Fine jewelry will be led by a David Webb signed pair of 18K yellow gold earclips weighing 36.1 grams, with posts (est. $6,000-$7,500); a group of three Elsa Peretti for Tiffany & Co. sterling silver belt buckles with five matching leather belts from the 1970s (est. $2,200-$2,600); and a pair of Italian Buccellati sterling silver cufflinks, each shaped as a sunflower (est. $450-$650).

SJ Auctioneers has quickly become a go-to source for buyers looking for fine estate silver, and the November 17th auction will have much to offer. A handful of better examples follows:

- A 68-piece Georg Jensen sterling silver Bernadotte flatware fish set for eight, including a large serving spoon, a tea caddy and a sugar spoon (est. $7,000-$7,500).
- An Eoeff & Shepard for Ball, Black & Co. coin silver pitcher, made between 1852 and 1861, beautifully adorned with raised natural motifs on the spot and handle, bearing hallmarks and a monogram, 11 ½ inches tall, weighing 31.3 oz. (est. $1,800-$2,500).
- A Cartier sterling silver and ruby glass cruet decanter made in Spain, a cockatiel sculpture in which the body is made of ruby red glass and the head and feet are made of sterling silver. The crest with beak is gilt. It stands 6 ¼ inches tall (est. $750-$900).
- A rare, vintage Buccellati sterling silver 925 Japanese Fugu (blowfish), fully hallmarked and signed, not tall at just a little more than 1 ½ inches in height and around two inches wide, weighing 37 grams, with minor wear due to age and old patina (est. $750-$900).
- A circa 1850-1890 Gorham sterling silver and copper Japanese mixed metals Y50 jardiniere vase with applied 3-D floral design, with the original patina, marked on the bottom "Gorham Y50" and "P" (P is the Gorham date mark for 1883) (est. $750-$950).
- A pair of Tiffany & Co. sterling silver salt and pepper shakers, 1 ¼ inches tall, with the original box (est. $350-$500).

Eoeff & Shepard for Ball, Black & Co. coin silver pitcher, circa 1852-1861, beautifully adorned with raised natural motifs, bearing hallmarks and a monogram, 31.3 oz. (est. $1,800-$2,500).

Omas fountain pen: Omas Limited Edition Europa fountain pen in the original display box. The pen, number 3133 out of a limited edition of 3500 produced, has a two-tone 18K gold nib (est. $675-$800).

- A Japanese sterling silver bonsai pine tree masterfully handcrafted and hallmarked "Gin-Sei" (the Japanese sterling silver mark), 3 inches tall, signed by the maker on a wooden plaque, the pine tree mounted on a wood pedestal stand, in a glass case (est. $300-$450).

There are several Victorian Crichton silverplate decanter jugs in the auction, including a cobalt blue glass bear jug with a silverplated head and glass eyes; and a canary yellow glass parrot decanter jug, also with a silverplated head and glass eyes. Both pieces are substantial and of very high quality and are ready for use in any home interior. Each carries an estimate of $450-$750.

Toys will feature a complete set of 34 handpainted Disney Marx Fairykins figures in the original box from 1961 (est. $300-$500); a Disney Bradley Time Mickey Mouse alarm clock (est. $75-$120); a set of four Pelham puppets made in England in 1960, in great condition (est. $300-$750); and a 1940 English-made Mimic wind-up vehicle with key that works (est. $250-$500).

There are several outstanding collectible fountain pens in the auction, including an Omas Limited Edition Europa pen in the original display box, number 3133 of 3500, with a two-tone 18K gold nib (est. $675-$800); and a Montblanc Meisterstück 146 Legrand pen with a solid gold 585 14K gold nib, the old version with a working piston, gold trim and box (est. $500-$750).

A few other noteworthy lots bidders might want to consider include the following:

- An Orrefors Studio art glass 5-inch hexagonal fish bowl vase designed around 1950 by Edward Hald in Sweden, depicting fish swimming in seaweed created in a vivid green color using the Graal technique with thick-walled, clear crystal (est. $750-$900).
- A Loet Vanderveen Limited Edition bronze Cheetah sculpture, number 431 out of 2500, signed and standing approximately 5 inches tall (est. $350-$500).
- A Black Americana Aunt Jemima cast iron egg skillet, measuring about 4 ¼ inches (est. $90-$120).
- A French majolica serving bowl (or tray) with mark pattern 765 28, measuring around 9 inches wide by 2 ¼ inches tall (est. $250-$500).
- A set of six Salviati signed drinking glasses, made in Italy, each glass about 3 inches tall by 2 inches wide (est. $250-$300).

Cartier sterling silver and ruby glass cruet decanter made in Spain, a cockatiel sculpture in which the body is made of ruby red glass, the head and feet are made of sterling silver (est. $750-$900).
