Montreal, the second largest city in Canada and ninth largest in North America, selected EMERES through a highly competitive procurement process. This award underscores the city's commitment to leveraging cutting-edge technology to ensure public safety and efficient emergency response.

EMERES' Strata CAD Suite is a class-leading CAD solution that has evolved over the past two decades. Customers around the globe trust the Strata CAD to manage sophisticated and complex public safety multi-agency workflows. This most recent award underscores the solution's rich, advanced, and modern capabilities to meet the needs of the largest public safety organizations.

The EMERES Strata CAD Suite stands out for its fault tolerance, extensive configurability, and comprehensive functionality. Its seamless integration with all communication and information systems will streamline processes, improve decision-making, reduce response times, and enhance first responder safety.

“We are proud to support the City of Montreal's pursuit of Next Generation public safety management and response,” said Albert Israel, CEO of EMERES. “Strata has proven itself to be a leading CAD solution around the world, and we are both confident and committed to ensuring that it will deliver the value City of Montreal expects.”

Implementation of the new CAD system is set to begin later this fall, marking a significant milestone in Montreal’s public safety infrastructure.
