

InjureFree launches a mobile app to make injury & incident reporting even easier

InjureFree launches its native mobile application for injury & incident tracking and reporting.

SOLANA BEACH, CA, UNITED STATES, November 7, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- InjureFree, the leader in sports safety and injury management, has launched a native mobile application on both Apple and Android to make injury management and reporting easier than ever. The mobile app fits a unique niche in the market and addresses the requests of InjureFree customers to provide them flexibility in reporting injuries & other risk management incidents, right from the field of play.

The mobile app includes all the features of the desktop version and offers an intuitive and user-friendly interface. A key feature of the mobile app is the ability to report injuries offline and sync them once the user's device is back on a network. Injury reporting often occurs at sports facilities where access to cellular data or internet can be hard to come by. Offline reporting allows for injuries to be tracked and reported without needing to worry about connection.

Tracking injuries has been a core service at InjureFree from the start. Our mobile app takes this to a whole new level in an intuitive and easy to navigate process”
Charlie Wund, CEO InjureFree
