Q1: How does BPX identify areas for process improvement?

A: BPX uses process mining data-driven analysis to find the inefficiencies through the existing workflow and identify them. This thus provides the company with an in-depth analysis that enables it to pinpoint bottlenecks and areas with potential for optimization.

Q2: What makes BPX's consulting approach unique?

A: BPX offers customized consulting services to every client. The staff at BPX combines deep industry knowledge with new technologies and uses a hands-on and holistic approach to deliver customized solutions that meet the strategic requirements of the organization.

Q3: How can businesses start working with BPX?

A: The process starts when the business books a consulting session on the website, discussing its goals and problems, and BPX thereafter develops a change roadmap for them based on their current requirements.
