The 17th edition of EDC's Advanced Payments and Fintech Report offers insights into the latest trends shaping the payments landscape.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, November 8, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- San Francisco, USA – 08/11/2024 - Edgar, Dunn & Company (EDC), the leading global payments and fintech consulting firm, has released its much-anticipated 2025 Advanced Payments & Fintech Report, offering in-depth insights into 14 critical topics that are redefining the future of payments and fintech landscape.

"2024 has been a pivotal year. The ongoing recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic has sparked new economic dynamics, paving the way for innovation across sectors," said Tue To, Head of Fintech at EDC. "

Simultaneously, geopolitical tensions and climate-related disruptions have added layers of complexity and uncertainty to global markets." In this environment, strategic foresight is essential for staying ahead.

The report explores transformative trends, including the rise of generative AI, the increasing focus on Central Bank Digital Currencies (CBDCs), and the growing impact of Open Banking
