“We at K2G are thrilled to join the Guidewire Insurtech Vanguard program,” said Arina Man, CEO of K2G.

“This partnership allows us to collaborate with Guidewire's extensive network of P&C customers, helping us to support insurers in overcoming challenges related to real-time data analysis, enhanced risk assessment, and improved customer engagement. Our technology offers advanced solutions to improve underwriting precision, reduce fraud, and streamline claims processes, ultimately delivering greater value to insurers and their policyholders.”

The Insurtech Vanguard program brings together a select group of technology providers introducing groundbreaking solutions to the P&C industry. As part of this program, Guidewire provides strategic support and connections to these companies, creating valuable opportunities for insurers seeking next-generation technology.

“Guidewire is excited to welcome K2G to the Insurtech Vanguard program,” said Laura Drabik, Chief Evangelist of Guidewire.

"K2G's expertise in data analytics and real-time insights is a valuable addition for insurers aiming to modernize and enhance their capabilities, aligning with Guidewire's vision of a more agile and innovative insurance industry."

K2G's advanced platform leverages AI-driven risk models and telematics to enable insurers to better understand and manage customer risk profiles, enhancing both operational efficiency and customer satisfaction.
