EINPresswire.com/ -- Introducing the Droplit LED umbrella. This is not an average umbrella – it's a game-changer in outdoor gear, featuring a built-in LED lighting system that illuminates a large area to increase safety and visibility. Perfect for anyone who wants to stay dry while lighting up their path. Droplit is ideal for moms, dads, tech fans, college students, outdoor enthusiasts, dog owners, or anyone who braves the night or the rain.

Droplit - The new umbrella with built-in lights

Droplit umbrella not only keeps the rain off, but also lights up the surroundings. Equipped with 19 ultra-bright LEDs pushing out 375 lumens, the Droplit umbrella ensures visibility on even the darkest of nights. It's a must for night-time dog walkers, students making their way across campus, strolling on busy streets, and adding light to any evening.

Droplit blends style, functionality and durability, making it a premium option in outdoor gear. By combining a premium quality umbrella with a high power LED system, users can increase visibility and keep a hand free - an important feature for safer night-time activities.

Spacious, Strong, and Thoughtfully Designed

Beyond its illuminating feature, which can also function as a studio light for photographers and content creators, the Droplit LED umbrella stands out with a 50-inch canopy arc that's spacious enough for two, a wind-resistant fiberglass and aluminum frame, and a UPF 50+ rating for sun protection. It weighs just 1.25 lbs, and features a soft-touch handle that's sleek and comfortable. With a quick push-button design, users can rapidly open the umbrella and turn the LED lights on or off with a single motion.

Droplit Umbrella is a new direct-to-consumer product, designed to be popular with a broad audience. Not available in stores, this thoughtful and useful item and great gift idea is only available on the company's website at: droplitco.com.
