

Black Unicorn Factory Takes Major Step Towards Nasdaq Listing, Files Form 8-A12B with SEC

Innovative Startup Accelerator Initiates Process to Reserve Nasdaq Ticker Symbol*

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, November 14, 2024 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Black Unicorn Factory, the groundbreaking startup accelerator focused on transforming African American startups into billion-dollar tech companies, announced today that it has filed a Form 8-A12B with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). This significant move marks a crucial step in the company's journey towards becoming a publicly traded entity on the Nasdaq Stock Market.

In addition to the SEC filing, Black Unicorn Factory has begun the initial stages of reserving a ticker symbol with Nasdaq, signaling its intent to list on the prestigious exchange shortly.

“

Real innovation in the Fintech sector is coming to light, I'm so proud of the progress Black Unicorn Factory has made”

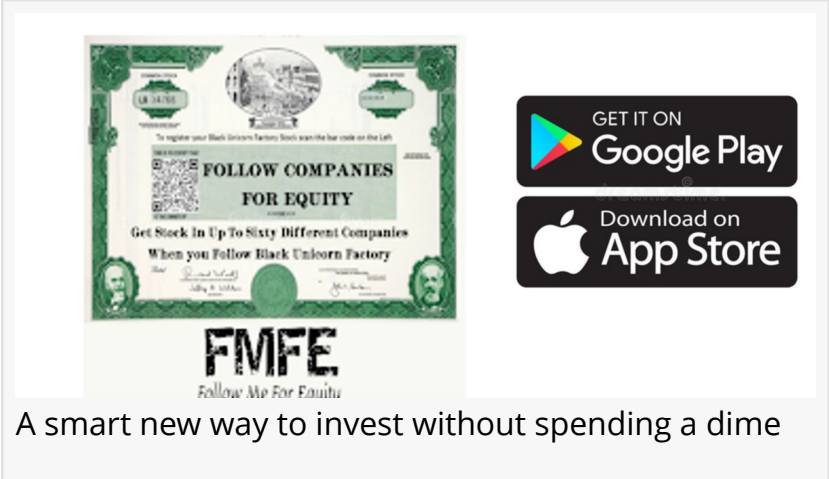

John Stewart

"This is a monumental moment for Black Unicorn Factory and the entrepreneurs we support," said Johnny Stewart, CEO of Black Unicorn Factory. "Our potential listing on Nasdaq represents not just our growth as a company, but also our commitment to creating more opportunities for African American-led startups in the tech industry."

The Form 8-A12B filing and the initiation of the ticker symbol reservation process follow Black Unicorn Factory's impressive private funding rounds, which saw the company raise $645 million and achieve a valuation of $6.1 billion in May 2021.

While the exact timing of the listing is yet to be determined, this move positions Black Unicorn Factory to transition from a private entity to a publicly traded company, potentially opening up new avenues for growth and investor participation.
