

Americans United Against Destructive Driving: AUADD Continues to Educate Teens on Highway Safety

Highway safety says destructive driving put all of us at risk

BURR RIDGE, IL, UNITED STATES,
November 14, 2024 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Americans United Against Destructive Driving (AUADD), a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting highway safety, has been providing free driver education programs to high school students for over a three decade. With the recent increase in destructive driving incidents, AUADD is urging the public to join their cause and act against this dangerous behavior. As an all-

“

As an all-volunteer organization, it is beyond critical, that we get support from the community, and corporate partners.”

*William M. Piecuch, Jr.
Founder and President*

volunteer organization, it is beyond critical, that we get support from the community, and corporate partners, stated William M. Piecuch, Jr. Founder and President of Americans United Against Destructive Driving, (AUADD)

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, destructive driving is the second leading cause of death for teenagers in the United States, down from number one. This includes behaviors such as speeding, distracted driving, drunk driving and driving under the influence. In response to this alarming statistic, AUADD has made it their mission to continue to educate young drivers on the importance of safe and responsible driving, using their upcoming app, that will use much of what the paper form used successfully to educate over 400,000 teens since 2003.

Through their free driver education program, AUADD has educated over 400,000 high school students across the country. The program covers topics such as defensive driving techniques, the dangers of distracted driving, and the consequences of driving under the influence. By equipping young drivers with the necessary knowledge and skills, AUADD believes they will continue to reduce the number of destructive driving incidents and save lives.

I can't be DEAD, I'm only 17!

AUADD is calling on all Americans to join their cause and take a stand against destructive driving. Whether it's through volunteering, spreading awareness, or simply practicing safe driving habits, every action counts. Together, we can make our roads safer for everyone.

As AUADD continues to educate and advocate for highway safety, they are determined to continue to make a positive impact in the fight against destructive driving. To learn more about their free driver education program and how you can get involved, visit their website at www.auadd.org.

Join the movement and help make our roads safer for all. Let's unite against destructive driving and continue to save lives.

Shawna Baldini

Americans United Against Destructive driving (AUADD)

+16306417641 ext.

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

Heaven can wait. DON'T drive destructively!

We need to get to our youth early, with proven, highway safety- educational tools!

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/760708875>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.