About CES Innovation Awards

The CES Innovation Awards honor outstanding engineering and design in technology for consumers. The award ceremony, which is awarded when CES and organized by the Consumer Technology Association (CTA), honors innovative products in a variety of fields, including wearable technology, smart home devices, sustainability, and health. Experts in the field evaluate entries based on technical quality, design, functionality, and impact on the industry. Receiving this honor recognizes a product's superiority and impact on emerging technology.

About Birdfy Feeder 2 Duo

The Bird Feeder 2 duo offers a revolutionary birdwatching experience with its dual-camera system, which captures birds in high resolution from multiple angles. With the front and side cameras, this innovative design allows full views of bird activity, which improves the birdwatching experience for bird lovers. The feeder's app provides an immediate notification and accurate species recognition. By enhancing the interaction and acknowledgment of bird watching, Birdfy Feeder 2 Duo allows users to better connect with birds.

Additionally, Birdfy Feeder 2 Duo is designed with sustainability principles in mind. Created from 20% recycled ABS, its natural appearance ensures it perfectly into outdoor spaces. Powered by solar energy, which provides it continuously without frequently charging, catering to eco-conscious users. Its tool-free and easy-to-clean design simplifies maintenance and cleaning, and improving the hygiene of both the birds and feeders. This combination of functionality and sustainability makes Birdfy Feeder 2 Duo perfect for birdwatchers and casual nature lovers.
