Greenspan will participate in a panel discussion entitled "The Future of Landlord & Tenant-Facing Tech: AI, Chat GPT, IOT & Your Favorite Tech Amenity." The 45 minute session will be held on Wednesday, December 4, at 10:10 am in Princess Ballroom A at the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess Hotel.

Together with other multifamily property owners and technology providers, Greenspan will share his unique perspective on how smartphone access control and visitor management solutions increase property value, improve security, and add convenience for tenants and managers alike. He will also showcase several examples of customer success and reveal key metrics on improved net operating income and reduced operating costs.

Greenspan noted, "With the growth of property technology in single-family rentals, owners and developers are looking for new solutions to explore." He continued, "Together with the other panelists, I'm excited to deliver key considerations and real-world examples of how these technologies are making a daily impact in regards to turning units and onboarding new residents, while at the same time improving net operating income."

Entegrity Smart is also a Silver Sponsor of the event and will exhibit at the show as part of the Exhibition space. For more information on the IMN Single Family Rental Forum (West) and to register, please visit https://www.sfrwest.com/registration.
