EINPresswire.com/ -- Author Dorothy E.B. Fickenscher will showcase her heartfelt memoir, "The Right to a Full Life," at the Miami Book Fair on November 22, 2024, from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM. Hosted in partnership with The Reading Glass Books, a sponsor of the Miami Book Fair, the book signing event will take place at The Reading Glass Books booth, located in Section E, Booth # 338 and 340.

In "The Right to a Full Life," Fickenscher offers an upbeat and empowering account of her journey as a mother raising twins with different disabilities. Through personal anecdotes and practical strategies, Fickenscher shares her experiences advocating for her children, navigating the complexities of working with doctors, teachers, and neighbors, and seeking the right fit for her family's needs. The book explores the balance between safety and independence, while highlighting the critical role communities play in fostering autonomy and support for individuals with disabilities.

Drawing on over 30 years of experience as an educator and advocate for individuals with developmental disabilities, Fickenscher also reflects on her post-retirement work with non-profits supporting adults with developmental differences. Her book aims to provide valuable lessons not only for parents of children with disabilities but also for families of all backgrounds, offering practical advice on building independence, community, and resilience.
