“

I wanted to capture the raw energy and unpredictability of nature within an electronic framework”

DJ Bander - Typhoon

The conception of "Typhoon" began when DJ Bander experimented with a synth that emulated oceanic sounds. Inspired by the natural force and rhythm of a typhoon, he built the track layer by layer, integrating elements that mimic the pulsing energy of the storm. The production process started at the Bander Sync Media studio in Downtown Los Angeles and was later fine-tuned and mastered at the prestigious Paramount Studios.

"The technique I used involved side-chaining the synths to the bassline, creating a soundscape that mimics the pulsing rhythm of a typhoon," commented DJ Bander. "I wanted to capture the raw energy and unpredictability of nature within an electronic framework."

DJ Bander's career is a tapestry of diverse achievements that span music composition, production, and entrepreneurial ventures. A Brooklyn native, he honed his craft at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the University of Southern California, and the Musicians Institute in Los Angeles. DJ Bander developed the entrepreneurial side of his career studying Finance at University of Redlands. His early work as a music editor on the blockbuster film The Day After Tomorrow set the stage for a career marked by innovation and versatility.

Over the years, DJ Bander has produced for New Age Music Group and headlined renowned California festivals such as Emerald Dream and Hot Summer Nights. His singles "Last Sunset" and "NASA" secured Top 10 spots on the iTunes Electronic Charts and a Top 100 position on Beatport, respectively. His work has been featured on Las Vegas FM airwaves and includes collaborations with artists like Katy Perry, Vanessa Daou, Jon B., Taryn Manning, and Automagic.

In addition to his musical endeavors, DJ Bander is an accomplished capital manager and marketing expert. He founded Bander Sync Media to merge his electronic beats with his entrepreneurial vision, creating a platform that pushes the boundaries of traditional music production and licensing.

As an original brand ambassador for Sol Republic alongside Skrillex and a recent partner with Yamaha, DJ Bander continues to influence the music industry. His relentless creativity and diverse expertise have earned him recognition in publications like LA Weekly and Forbes, solidifying his status as a trailblazer in electronic music.

"Typhoon" is now available on all major streaming platforms. Listeners can experience the innovative soundscapes that define DJ Bander's music and witness the evolution of his progressive electronic style.
