Farm to Pet's Holiday Collection

I know how gratifying it is to treat our pets to something they love, especially when it's good for them. We want to offer amazing holiday pet gifts without sacrificing quality, nutrition or fun.”

Farm to Pet founder Jackson Jones

The family-owned business known for its small-batch, all-natural, single-ingredient pet treats is becoming well known for its themed special edition collections as well, which include Howl-o-ween, Valentine's Day and Thanksgiving in addition to Howl-iday. And why not? Pets are beloved parts of family gatherings and memories.

Rather than disposable trinkets or less-than-nutritious treats, Farm to Pet focuses on providing healthy holiday options that dogs and cats love to eat but that pet parents can also feel good about giving them.

For example, the company's low-fat, low-calorie Chips and Crumbles treat lines are loaded with flavor and crunch pets love to munch, but also rich in protein, amino acids, and essential nutrients they need. Now packaged in festive bags with winter scenes and ribbon designs, these cat and dog delicacies not only lead to wagging tails, but smiling human faces as well!

Something else to make pet owners smile? The significant savings offered on these adorable gifts for dogs and cats. The company is doing just that in multiple ways. First, the Farm to Pet Holiday Chips range includes value bundles of their standard, large-format, and snack-sized bags of delicious and nutritious Turkey and Chicken Chips for dogs - enjoyable by cats as well. Plus, Farm to Pet is debuting its collection of Holiday Pet Gift Boxes, mega assortments of holiday treats for dogs and cats pre-filled in decorated boxes that are ready to gift. With prices ranging from $17.95 to $74.95, there is something for any budget and furry friend this season. After all, all pets are on the nice list!
