With rising costs and economic uncertainty leaving more families struggling to make ends meet, this event highlighted the urgent need for community action. Families lined up at the Boys & Girls Club in West Dallas to receive food boxes filled with Thanksgiving essentials, ensuring they could enjoy a holiday meal while easing some of the financial burden they face.

"This isn't just about providing food—it's about providing hope," said Dominique Bryant-Howell, Executive Director of the Chris Howell Foundation. "Families in our community are feeling the strain of rising costs, and we're here to support them. We're grateful for the partners and volunteers who made today's impact possible."

Hunger in North Texas: A Growing Crisis

With over 1 in 5 children in North Texas experiencing food insecurity, events like the Thanksgiving Giveaway are a lifeline for families in need. Karen Tan, President & CEO of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Dallas, emphasized the importance of this effort:

Event Highlights:

- 14,420 pounds of food distributed
- 350 Thanksgiving turkeys provided
- Hundreds of North Texas families served

Beyond Thanksgiving: A Call to Action While today's event brought relief to hundreds of families, the Chris Howell Foundation stresses that food insecurity is a year-round issue requiring sustained attention and action. National Hunger & Homelessness Awareness Week, observed each November, is a reminder of the millions of Americans who lack access to nutritious food and stable housing.
