The lawsuit, case # 24CU028325C, filed in the Superior Court of California for the County of San Diego, details numerous incidents over the course of a year where L.K. was verbally and physically assaulted on school grounds. These episodes include physical violence, threats, and bullying. The complaint highlights instances of repeated assaults and harassment, despite multiple warnings and pleas for intervention from both L.K. and her guardian to teachers, school administrators, and district officials.

California law places an affirmative duty on schools to take all reasonable steps to protect students,” said Sam Ryan Heidari, lead attorney on the case.”

According to the complaint, Carlsbad Unified School District and school officials failed to fulfill their duty under California law to maintain a safe environment for all students. “California law places an affirmative duty on schools to take all reasonable steps to protect students,” said Sam Ryan Heidari, lead attorney on the case. “This lawsuit seeks justice for L.K. and aims to hold accountable those responsible for the safety of all children in their care.”

The complaint further describes alleged negligence in the supervision of students and the failure to implement necessary safety measures, even after documented warnings from L.K.'s guardian regarding the bullying and safety concerns. The lack of protective actions allegedly resulted in serious physical injuries and lasting emotional trauma for L.K.

The lawsuit seeks compensation for general and special damages and calls for a thorough reassessment of safety protocols within the school district to prevent similar incidents in the future.

Heidari Law Group remains dedicated to advocating for the rights of students and ensuring that educational environments remain safe and inclusive for all. The firm is committed to holding school officials accountable for their responsibilities in protecting the children under their supervision.
