Expanding Care with FQHC Designation

The partnership between Someone Cares and Wellstar began in 2023 as Someone Cares worked toward becoming a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC). Set to achieve this designation in February 2025, Someone Cares will receive federal funding to expand its services and outreach. The FQHC designation will also enable a closer collaboration with Wellstar to ensure patients have access to advanced healthcare services not available in primary care settings.

Expanding Access Through Strategic Partnerships

Someone Cares has found invaluable support through its collaboration with the Wellstar Center for Health Equity. Wellstar's Community Clinic Network, which has been addressing health disparities across Georgia for eight years, offers tailored resources to community-based clinics like Someone Cares.

These resources include:

- Lab services and medical imaging
- Patient education
- Reduced-cost outpatient care
- Telehealth services

This partnership enables Someone Cares to enhance its offerings, ensuring vulnerable populations in Metro Atlanta have access to comprehensive, high-quality healthcare services.

“Someone Cares exemplifies the impact that can be achieved through partnerships,” said Ronnie Bass, Founder & CEO of Someone Cares. “With Wellstar’s support, we’re making great strides toward creating healthier communities by providing access to quality healthcare for those who need it most.”
