Lisa Pamintuan, president of Nicolas of Palm Beach, couldn't be more excited about the pairing. “I think Marco was born a star. People don't even know his music yet, but women can't keep their eyes off him,” she said. “Fortunately for those who are backing his musical career, his voice and music are incredible—this isn't just our opinion; even his producer, who has worked with legends like Julio Iglesias and Shakira, agrees.”

While Marco continues to hone his craft along the southeastern Florida coast, performing at local clubs to improve his English, it's clear that this might be the last year he enjoys the anonymity of beach life. Soon, he will be known not just for his surfboard skills but as a powerful force in both music and fashion.

As the countdown to his world tour begins, fans can expect more surprises from Marco Rio, who is set to take the industry by storm. Stay tuned for updates on his upcoming music and the official launch of his clothing line—because this rising star is ready to shine!
