Better Vision for a Child's Future through vision testing and care along with mentoring and education programs for foster children.

Kate Linder and Trae Ireland to host the eZWay annual Oscar Viewing Golden Gala, with a social media reach of over 5 million Instagram followers, to raise awareness for Better Vision for Children and its vital mission.

The gala begins with celebrity and honoree arrivals on a 30-foot gold carpet at 1 PM PT, followed by a live viewing of the 97th Oscars® at 4 PM PT. The Oscars®, airing live on ABC, will be broadcast in over 200 territories worldwide from the Dolby® Theatre at Ovation Hollywood. The gala will air on eZWay TV and be covered by NBC/PEACOCK, Getty Images, eZWay News, and more.

This gala will celebrate the best in Hollywood, build better vision programs for children from physical eyesight to vision for the future of children.”

Dr. Eric Zuley, an award-winning entrepreneur, author, and media mogul.

Vision impairment is a pressing global issue that touches the lives of millions. The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that around 2.2 billion people live with some degree of vision impairment, revealing a staggering scale of this challenge. What's particularly concerning is that about 1 billion of those affected are children, often hindering their ability to learn and thrive.

"In addition, we are reaching out to the foster care community to enhance their minds for a better future through mentoring, life skills, and education," said CEO and President of Better Vision for Children James Zuley.

Raising awareness, promoting regular eye examinations, and ensuring access to essential vision care for children, especially those in the foster care system is crucial. By addressing these challenges, we can help safeguard the futures of countless individuals and empower them to live their lives fully.

"This year's gala will celebrate the best in Hollywood and build better vision programs for children, from physical eyesight to vision for children's future," said Dr. Eric Zuley, the gala's executive producer. Zuley, an award-winning entrepreneur, author, and media mogul known for his innovative digital strategies and philanthropic endeavors, supports meaningful causes through global events. "The event has a combined social media reach of over 14 million Instagram followers, amplifying its ability to raise awareness for Better Vision for Children and its vital mission."
