

7 Solution Ltd: Precision in Capillary Tube Manufacturing for Diverse Industrial Needs

With a focus on quality and precision, the company serves industries such as aerospace, medical technology, and petrochemicals from its facility in China.

SHANGHAI, CHINA, November 29, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 7 Solution Ltd, a specialized manufacturer of high-quality capillary tubes, continues to set industry standards through its innovative approach to metal component production.

Established in 2019, the company operates with a clear mission: delivering reliable and precision-engineered capillary tubes tailored to the needs of industries such as aerospace, medical technology, and petrochemicals.

Operating from a state-of-the-art 3,000-square-meter facility in Maan Shan City, China, 7 Solution Ltd offers a diverse range of products that include titanium and titanium alloy capillary tubes, ultrafine capillary tubes, and composite metal capillary tubes.

With 25 years of collective expertise in processing capillary tubes and a team of 18 dedicated employees, including six senior engineers, the company leverages its technical knowledge to deliver products of unmatched quality.

7 Solution Ltd - Your trusted capillary tube manufacturer

7 Solution Ltd: a professional capillary tube manufacturer founded in 2019

7 Solution Ltd provides specialized capillary tubes designed to meet the precise requirements of various applications:

- Titanium and Titanium Alloy Capillary Tubes: Highly durable and lightweight, ideal for aerospace and medical applications.
- Ultrafine Capillary Tubes: Engineered for precision in critical applications, such as surface treatment and electrophoresis processes.
- Composite Metal Capillary Tubes: Designed for specialized industrial processes requiring advanced material properties.

Commitment to Excellence

7 Solution Ltd's capillary tubes undergo stringent quality assurance processes to ensure exceptional reliability. From aerospace engineering to petrochemical innovations, the company delivers components essential to driving progress across multiple industries.

Global Reach and Contact

7 Solution Ltd serves clients across the globe, supported by its advanced manufacturing processes and commitment to excellence. For inquiries, the company can be reached via the following channels:
